Wireless ultrasound enables me to focus more on my patient without having wires get in the way of my nerve block. The third generation Clarius is amazing. The image quality is superior. It connects seamlessly. I mean, it's light, it's small, and it's easier to handle when performing a procedure. It's cheaper, more portable and has greater flexibility than the traditional ultrasound machines."

It really is a fantastic unit. The image quality of the new HD3 is actually pretty amazing. I mean, I've got to say, I am very impressed. The Clarius wireless performance is phenomenal. I would say that the new Clarius HD3 is almost like a traditional cart-based probe without the wire and the cart. And if you put it behind the iPhone, you literally can't see it. The ergonomics and the size are ideal."
